Charles D. Solloway, Jr., CPCM, has more than 40 years of acquisition experience in the government and private sector. As a civilian employee of the U.S. Army, he held positions as buyer, contract specialist, contract negotiator, procurement analyst, contracting officer, director of contracting, and principal assistant responsible for contracting. Solloway twice received the U.S. Army's highest civilian award, The Decoration for Exceptional Civilian Service, for innovations in contracting. A Certified Professional Contracts Manager (CPCM) and a Fellow of the National Contract Management Association (NCMA), Solloway serves on the NCMA Special Topic Committee on Contract Management Education.

The information provided in this book is at a very fundamental level and does not get into the kind of details that a book of this type should address. Much of the info in this text are simply re-worded restatements from the FAR. If you are looking for a 100 level university text on source selection, then this is a may be something that you may want to get. If you are looking for a more detailed version/advanced version at a more in-depth level, then I can't recommend this book.
