Nate The Great Goes Undercover

Synopsis

Beginning readers are introduced to the detective mystery genre in these chapter books. Perfect for the Common Core, kids can problem-solve with Nate, using logical thinking to solve mysteries! Somebody has been raiding Oliver's garbage can each night. How can Nate narrow the long list of suspects down to one? Nate the Great might just have to go under cover . . . under cover of the garbage can lid, that is! Check out the Fun Activities section in the back of the book! Visit Nate the Great and Sludge! NatetheGreatBooks.com "Marc Simont's charcoal and pastel illustrations provide the perfect backdrop for this clever case." School Library Journal, Starred "First graders' favorite private eye solves the case of Oliver's scattered garbage in those short, easy sentences that Sharmat transforms into crisp, tough-guy humor." Kirkus Reviews (A Kirkus Reviews Editor's Choice)

Nate the Great has his first night case! "Detective work is not fun and games," Nate explains. "Detective work is dirty garbage cans instead of clean beds. Detective work is banana peels, dishrags, milk cartons, floor sweepings, cigar ashes, fleas, and me..." It's a tough case. Somebody is raiding Oliver's garbage can each night, but who? The list of suspects is long--Rosamond and Esmeralda, the girls down the street; Rosamond's cats; and all the shrews, moles skunks, birds, and racoons in the neighborhood. Nate courageously encounters a skunk (nose first) and a telephone pole (head on), but not until he goes under cover of the garbage-can lid does he narrow the suspects down to one.

Excellent book for 1st-2nd grade!

Seems that boys, especially my 6 year old grandson, loves it. Will get more of the Nate the Great books.

My 5 year old cannot get enough of these books!

I've just started a collection of audiobook CDs for long car rides with my kids, aged 7 and (just) 4 -- this is one of our favorites. The stories are well written, and the narrator is great. This is my favorite of the Nate the Great CDs -- several of the others include collections of practical jokes or tricks to do with household items between stories, not so relevant in a car.

I have a son named Nathan and when he was in school he was Nate the Great. It was a thrill to read Nate the Great to his son. Fun story. I asked him if he knew who Nate was and he said "my daddy". Cool

I sent as gift to my great grand niece and her grandmother-teacher read it to her. She gave it a big thumbs up - said she was attentive and answered all her questions perfectly. I would recommend it as a great book that's not based on the usual animals, but a step up into a different aspect of life.

Reading this with my grandson and he loves it! He is not an avid reader but he asks to read this book!

Sweet story. Not very exciting for a grandchild that's interested in Captain Underpants.
