My daughter loves these lift-the-flap books. They hold up pretty well although I've started taping a few of the flaps since the baby can be a bit hard on them.

this book is fantastic for babies (a warm message, interactive & engaging flaps, easy and clear language, etc) but also my kindergartner loves reading this book -- and the words are well targeted (not too many silent E's, tricky blends ("ph", "th") or other challenging "tricks of English"... and the pictures match the words so even when kids can't sound the word out, they can look at the picture for a good clue, and the patterns and repetition in Katz's writing make for a supportive, constructive reading & learning experience.) These are top-notch, high-quality books that will excite -- and not frustrate -- your child as they enter the world of books and reading.

I bought these books because my daughter loves to help with reading her books. Flap books are her favorite. The flaps on these books are very flimsy, she can't always get her fingers underneath to lift them. When she plays with them she rips them because they are glued on poorly. Not very sturdy books for toddlers.

My son got this as a first birthday gift and he loves all the books! He is 18 months now and they are still some of his favorites. He sometimes rips the flaps off the book but not sure that can be prevented with a toddler and a little scotch tape fixes them right up.

I ordered these for my 8 month old son. The Box of Fun is the best value if you are looking to buy more than 1 of Karen Katz Lift-the-Flap books. He loves lift-the-flap books, so I figured I would give these a try. He loves the illustrations and colors, and of course the flaps! We love to sit down and read these over and over. He even likes to lift the flap himself. Great books for children. I know he will love these for many more months!

My 1 yr old son loves these books!

Bought these for my 11 month old son. He just loves pulling up the flaps as I read him the story! He also enjoys putting books in the box and then dumping them out! I would recommend these for people who love to read with their babies and young children.

I have been reading Karen Katz books to my daughter ever since our "Pat the Bunny" book bit the dust when she was only 4 months old (the binding was just too flimsy!) My daughter is now 13 months and I can safely say that Karen Katz lift-the-flap books are THE BEST choice for active/spirited babies and toddlers. Unlike other children's books, they are very sturdy, colorful, and teach children fine motor skills, as well as racial differences (African American, Asian babies are featured in the "Where is Baby's Belly Button" book). My daughter rips and pulls at the flaps on these books in her glee of me reading them to her...and, although they are very folded and crinkled up, all of the flaps are still in tact!!! I also like Counting Kisses and Daddy Hugs, but I'd suggest buying the lift-the flap books like this set because they are so much more entertaining and hold the child's attention better. As a follow on to this set, I'd suggest the Grandma, Grandpa and Daddy lift-the-flap books, my daughter loves the Daddy one even though it's geared toward a little boy. I will be buying these books for all of my friends' baby showers, they make a perfect gift!
