Matthew Teacher, a graduate of Berklee College of Music, is the author of The Musician's Notebook, The Songwriter's Notebook, and A Speech Giver's Notebook. He lives in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

I really like the handwritten designs in the book. Not many notes or bars would fit per page so I'm not sure its very practical for my purposes. Unless it's very short, one song would take up several pages. It's not for writing an instrumental composition (like for the piano) because you'd have to use half of the book. Its a good place for your ideas

Gave it as a gift to my songwriting father and he loves it. Wish there was a place to write chords along the staff, but he can squeeze them in. Wish I took a picture of the inside of it before giving it away.

I bought this for my 10 year old daughter who has been showing interest in the piano and the guitar and writing songs. She doesn't quite know how to use it, but is learning as she goes. Each 2 page layout has 10 guitar scores and 4 piano scores. There is room for notes and lyrics on the lines in the piano scores...3 lines on each score to be exact...leaving room for error I suppose. This is a very sweet book. Each 2 page layout also includes a quote from a famous musician...for instance the first quote is from Louis Armstrong and it says "All music is folk music. I ain't never heard no horse sing a song." At the end of the book is a section with lines for taking notes, etc. Took a little while to get it...but worth the wait!

Bought this as a gift and I'm sure my sister will love it! When it arrived it had some wear & tear on the cover but perhaps that's just the design. Otherwise, looks great!

This is not for a serious Musician but would suit the budding muso who wanted to dabble in a bit of transcribing. The parchment paper is beautiful but there is just not enough manuscript. On each page there are lyrics lines, guitar chord boxes, vocal treble staff, piano treble and bass staff and tablature lines and the book is just not large enough to accommodate all this.

I bought this as a gift. As soon as the recipient opened it they couldn't put it down. The inside has quotes from various well known individuals. The pages are large enough to write music but not so big that it takes up your whole lap. The binding looks like it'll last too

I gave this as a Christmas gift to my sister and she loves it! The pages have an antiquated feel, and there are inspirational quotes from musicians on them as well. I wasn't sure at first if it was going to be worth it, since it's a lot more expensive than a normal ledger book. But it definitely was. The quality is good and the pages feel special.

It's a good little composition book for any musician. My biggest complaint is that it needs a few more pages in between each new section but other than that, it's awesome. The size of the bars are great, there is plenty of room for note making, it's a handy size to carry if you travel with it. Makes a perfect gift for any song writer to practice on. The paper stock is good quality as well.
