Customer Reviews

What a waste of $15. You can get more information from Wikipedia and Google. The book has 40 pages written in big font with pictures, so you can imagine how much actual content there is. This is a total scam. The book is essentially a presentation to go to their website and enroll in their program. But cleverly disguised as a book.

Tax credits for tech companies is a must read for tech company CEO's! You will learn about what this specialized form of tax credits are, how to find out if you qualify for them, and how much money your company might be able to get back from the government....every year! If you are the CEO or CFO of a company with research and development costs, you owe it to yourself, your company, and your shareholders to read this book!

Joe explains in very simple terms how a small tax credit loop hole can be converted into huge savings for a small to medium size company. These tax credits are not necessarily credits your CPA may be acquainted with. The information in this little book could save you $200,000 per year added to your bottom line. A great read for any CEO looking to move his or her company into the 21st century marketplace.

Brand new information that saves you lots of money. What more could you want? I was worried this book would be "above my head" and instead, it is written well and easy to follow.
