I feel misled by the name. I thought there would be 52 different alphabets in the book, but no you have 52 letters. You get about two letters per page. It's one set of lower case and one set of upper case letters so 52 individual letters in total. I have a hard time seeing how the letters all work together to be in the same style since they are so spread out throughout the pages.

I thought I was going to get 52 versions of each letter. You get a capital and lowercase version of each letter.

Warning: ONE alphabet with ONE letter on each page to practice. I was hoping for examples of different lettering and alphabets that I could see and practice on other paper.

Should have read the reviews.... I also feel very misled. It says ALPHABETS on the cover. Nope, there are letters. One alphabet to practice. What a load of rot. Don't buy unless you want to practice that alphabet. Very misleading.

Grid ruled practice notepad (with sample character and embellishment guides). A bit pricey but still useful. Good paper quality for various inks. The grid is large which works well for beginners and practicing larger designs. Pages are double-sided (grids on both sides) but some inks may show bleed through to the backs -- although not to other pages with inks I've used.

52 alphabets?!? It is actually 52 letters - one alphabet with upper and lower case. Ripoff.

i wish i would have reviewed this closer.....could have printed out the pages myself
