Customer Reviews

Barbara Soloff Levy has created over two dozen "How to Draw" guides for Dover, plus many other activity books. Since retiring from her job as an elementary school art teacher, she devotes much of her time thinking up new ideas for this popular series.

This is the third one of these in this series that I've purchased for my granddaughter & she loves them.

We had bough a different learn to draw type book and had to return it because it was much to hard. This is a great starter book to give a child confidence in drawing. I would definitely by other books from this author.

This is a great drawing book for my 7 year old son - simple and good for him.

This book shows the steps for children and beginners to take to learn to draw objects. Bought for my grandson to learn to draw.

My 11 year old son who loves horses, loved getting this book. He carries it around with him and has drawn some very nice horses by looking at this book. If your child loves drawing and loves horses, this book won't disappoint. I would say this is for beginners, if your child can already draw basic horses and wants something more advanced and real life looking, this book won't be for you.

This book is super cute. My daughter was home sick from summer camp and this gave her something fun to do that wasn't mindlessly watching TV or using electronics. The images are very cute and easy to re-create. I would put this at a beginner level.

Pretty disappointing. The fish on the cover is the most complex drawing in the book.

Bought this for my children. We have recently started learning how to draw together, as I never learned before. My son's are 6 and 4. This book has very simple drawings even my 4-yr old can draw, such as the apple and pumpkin. I think it is perfect for our homeschool art class. This is a Christmas gift so we will see if they're excited as much as I am.
