Jocey Asnong was raised by a pack of wild pencil crayons in a house made out of paper and stories. After finishing several years of illustration school at Sheridan College, she left the land of maple trees in Ontario and moved to the mountains of Alberta so that she could wear mittens most of the year. When she is not chasing her cats around her art cave in Canmore, she might be caught in a blizzard near Mount Everest, or running away from wolf dogs in Mongolia, or peeking out castle windows in Scotland, or sleeping under the stars in Bolivia. Jocey's illustrations can be found in all kinds of unusual places, as well as in the picture books Mushkid, The Princess and the Cheese and Nuptse and Lhotse in Nepal (winner of a Purple Dragonfly Award). Find Jocey and her illustrations at cautiousleroy.com and follow Nuptse and Lhotse and their adventures on Facebook. She lives in Canmore, Alberta, Canada.

Our two year old grandson will travel to Iceland with his parents and this was a perfect introduction. He loves it as it is wonderfully illustrated.

Grandsons 3 & 5 yrs loved the book, asking to have it read over and over. Exceptional illustrations. A trip around the country learning about wildlife, geography, landscape, folk tales. Highly recommended. We also gave them a world map to put on the wall.

This was a gift for a friend traveling to Iceland with her 6 year old. From my peek inside it looked wonderful and was very well recieved.

This was the perfect pretrip purchase for our 3 and 5 yr olds. They loved the story and it provided the perfect amount of information about the new things they would see and do in Iceland. Seeing geysers, volcanic rock, Icelandic horses, etc was all that more exciting because it was "like Nuptse and Lhotse". They are still asking to read the story now that the trip is over.
